Critical Period Ahead For Gubernatorial Hopefuls

A CRITICAL PERIOD is ahead for the fast-growing field of potential candidates for governor in 1960. And that includes the incumbent. Those closest to Gov. G. Mennen Williams insist he has not made up his mind whether to seek a seventh term.

Meanwhile, Democrats who are potential candidates, especially those on the State Administrative Board, are told to keep their ambitions under wraps. And Republicans are kept guessing. In less than a year the campaign will be underway. Although announcements for some can be stalled off until Spring, decisions must be made soon so courses can be charted and trial balloons released. Republicans are confident '60 is their year. Forces that held back before will be thrown into a pre-primary power struggle between liberals and conservatives in the party. The gap between the two appears to be widening. Democrats have confidence because they say the Republican-controlled Legislature gave them issues voters will remember. But the possibility that Williams may seek another job carries with it the possibility of a free-for-all primary among Democrats.

A landslide victory in 1958 for Secretary of State James M. Hare swept him to the head of the line of Democrats waiting for Williams to vacate.

George Edwards has proved his popularity with voters and has wide respect among party leaders. But he says he is happy on the bench. State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown would like the job but does not want to go through a primary fight. Attorney Paul L. Adams, Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson and Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie are other members of Williams' cabinet mentioned as replacement prospects.

Among Republicans, Paul D. Bagwell has the most apparent backing. His strong showing against Williams in 1958 made him a party hero. Yet many within the party are looking to industry, Washington and the State Senate for candidates for governor. The GOP liberals see American Motors' President George Romney as a good "name" candidate for the nomination. Some in the other camp look to Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield for leadership.

Some talk is heard among Republicans of Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo) and Rep. Robert Griffin (R-Mich.) as candidates for the nomination. Both have been on the firing line recently. Morris was chief architect of the Republican tax stand in the Legislature. Griffin was vaulted to prominence in Congress by the Landrum-Griffin labor reform bill.

primary speculation about candidates for governor in 1958 has hinted he may announce early next year as a candidate for the U. S. Senate. Rep. George Gallade (R-Ann Arbor) is viewed as a rebel by GOP regulars. But his criticism of his party's legislative program has kept him in the public eye, as has his chairmanship of a national committee promoting Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the presidency.

TWO LEADING LAWMAKERS in Lansing are hoping Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich.), the 84-year-old congressman from the Third District, does not seek reelection. Sen. Edward T. Fitch (R-Fennville) said he would like the job but would not oppose Hoffman in a primary. Sen. John R. Beasly (R-Buchanan) would like the job and may not wait.

ANOTHER OCTOGONARIAN serving Michigan voters is Rep. Louis Cramton (R-Lapeer), who will be 84 Dec. 2.

Cramton played an active role in the tax fight. Early in the session he sought a constitutional amendment that would have removed doubts about most of the Republican use-sales tax plans. Cramton, father of fair employment practices legislation, first served the state as law clerk in the State Senate from 1903 to 1907. He was elected to the Michigan House of Representatives in 1908, went on to become a member of Congress and a circuit judge, and then returned to the Legislature in 1916.

NEWEST INSTITUTE OF higher learning in Michigan is Northwood, which will open its doors to students for the first time this year.

Northwood is located in Alma, in the remodeled former home of Wm. W. Wright, a wealthy lumberman who built the house in 1859 of materials imported from Europe. Many of the original art pieces and decorations remain in the school to give an atmosphere of history and tradition to the new building.

The school offers a unique mixture of business and liberal arts classes in the theory that students trained for the commercial world will be more confident, capable, enjoy life more and be promoted more rapidly if they receive some background in the basic social and cultural subjects.

First class will consist of 100 students, but the Northwood staff is expecting to grow quickly.

WHAT'S THE STORY ON THE NEW FORD FALCON?

Come in and we'll tell you all we know!

HOW BIG WILL THE ALL-NEW FORD FALCON BE? HOW MANY PEOPLE WILL IT CARRY? HOW ABOUT POWER?

To start with, in the all-new, New-Size Ford—the Ford Falcon—you save, but never "do without!" You get modern, fine-car styling... six-people-big room and comfort... a car that's born and bred for the American road! And you get it from Dearborn, Michigan, automotive capital of the world.

SO LET'S TALK ABOUT THAT...

The Falcon uses the latest type of single-unit construction (like the fabulous Ford Thunderbird). This adds extra inches everywhere inside—and it makes the car one solid, silent, integrated structure.

Along with its all-new size... there are lots of other things, like extra-big brakes and light-finger steering, that make the Falcon a delight to drive. And the Falcon is so maneuverable, it makes driving in city traffic a cinch!

LET'S TALK ABOUT STYLING FIRST!

You're going to be amazed by the Falcon's beauty. It has a low, sleek, European flair in new, beautifully proportioned style. It has safe, "wide open" visibility all around. Interior styling is fresh and new, with smart looking, durable upholstery. In a nutshell, the Falcon is Ford's way of proving that a true economy car doesn't need to look, ride or feel like one.

LET'S TALK ABOUT THE ALL-NEW FALCON'S SIX-PASSENGER SIZE!

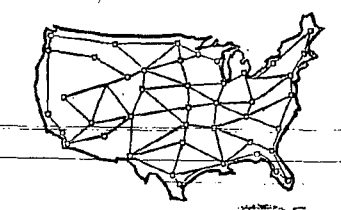

Available in both 2- and 4-door models, both models will have full-width seats accommodating six. There's room for all their luggage, too, with 265% more luggage space than the two most popular foreign cars. Pretty amazing, isn't it? The main reason is the way the Falcon is built.

LET'S TALK ABOUT THE FALCON'S PERFORMANCE!

The all-new engine is up front, where exhaustive crash tests, skid tests and handling tests prove it should be, for safety and stability. It has six cylinders... it's of the world's most modern design... yet it's built on full-proven principles. It will deliver up to 30 miles per gallon on regular gas, only needs oil changes every 4,000 miles. The engine is also water cooled, which permits use of a water-type heater that's safer and never robs you of gas mileage! Unlike many cars of its size, the Falcon's available with automatic drive, too.

AND NOW WE'VE SIMPLY GOT TO TELL YOU ABOUT THE FALCON'S FADOLUS EXPERIENCE RUN!

It tops off a rugged 3-year, 3,000,000-mile test program. A fleet of Falcons is now traveling over every numbered U. S. highway in the country. It's from the drivers' logs on this run that we got the "30-miles-to-a-gallon" mileage figure. Some of the Falcons are driving around-the-clock—and new records are rolling in every day.

BUT THE FALCON'S ECONOMY IS MEASURED IN MANY MORE WAYS... THAN GAS AND OIL SAVINGS!

Take the price. Though we can't give you the figure just yet, we can tell you this: the low, low price of the Falcon will help prove to you that it's the savingest car, right from the start! What's more, the main body understructure is heavily zinc-coated to protect it against corrosion through the years. Front fenders are bolted on for easier, more economical servicing. Insurance will probably cost you less. And Falcon service will be available everywhere, using standard American tools. We've just been able to scratch the surface of the Falcon news here. Come in. Bring all your questions. But make it soon. We have many orders already.

COMING OCTOBER 8th... THE NEW-Size FORD

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

"Consumers Marketing Information Co-ordinating with County Extension Service"

It's back to school time and as we move into our "regular" home scheduling which goes hand-in-hand with the school program, we naturally think of meal planning. September is Better Breakfast Month, and the United States Department of Agriculture reminds us that—especially in the fall—breakfast every day. After a long night's fast, the body is most in need of food at breakfast time. Our first meal should include from a fourth to a third of the day's food.

That mid-morning hunger feeling among teen-agers can be stopped with a good serving of eggs at breakfast. This is because high protein foods are slowly digested, thus hunger comes less quickly after eating a breakfast with eggs.

Breakfast is the most important meal of the day, but unfortunately about one-half of the American population does not eat what nutritionists consider an adequate breakfast. And a large segment of this group consists of teen-agers who need breakfast badly.

It is foolhardy for high school students to trade their breakfast for a little extra morning sleep. It's a poor trade! And it is practically impossible for youngsters to make up the food they miss at breakfast by eating snacks or "overeating" at other meals.

The Nation's more than 18 million teen-agers are growing like weeds, and they have amazing appetites! Their nutritional needs are at a high point in their lives. Research including work done by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, shows that youngsters are less irritable, have fewer headaches, and get through their daily activities best when they eat well-balanced breakfasts. A good protein breakfast reduces nervousness and inefficiency, especially in the late morning hours. It provides for great stability of output, results in fewer work and play accidents, and reduces indecisiveness. The proteins of eggs have the highest biological value of all known proteins! In fact, egg proteins are the common reference used by research scientists to compare values of other proteins. Eggs are also an exceptionally good source of iron, vitamin A, thiamin, riboflavin, and vitamin D, as well as other vitamins and minerals needed so much by teenagers. And teen-age girls will be particularly happy to learn that eggs are low in total calories. With less than 70 calories per medium egg, eggs are actually lower in calories than practically all meats... although combinations of "ham and eggs" or "bacon and eggs" cannot be excelled for the teen-age breakfast.

The glamour-minded girl and the all 'round boy will feel better, work and play better, and be healthier if they make eggs a part of that well-balanced meal at breakfast.

As you shop for eggs, check the "cost per pound" in order to determine your best egg buy. Small eggs weigh 18 ounces per dozen, medium eggs 21 ounces and large eggs 24 ounces. At this season, small and medium eggs are usually the better choice.

The Honeymoon Is Over . . .

When the results of last year's Congressional elections became known, labor heads were extremely happy. And, as matters looked then, they certainly had every right to be. According to U. S. News & World Report, 254 House members were elected with the backing of one or more labor organizations. The significance of that figure lies in the fact that this is more than enough votes—35 more to be exact—to pass or defeat any piece of legislation. The labor leaders obviously felt that the Representatives they had supported would go along with their recommendations. But this honeymoon, like so many others, ended abruptly a short time ago. The labor bill which the laborers hate with utmost vehemence is the Landrum-Griffin bill. And, to their shock and evident dismay, passed the House by the reasonably substantial margin of 229 to 201. That happened, says U. S. News, because 62 of the members whom labor supported in 1958, in which labor counted on to vote its way, instead voted for Landrum-Griffin.

Various causes accounted for this. One, that some of the labor people went too far in exerting pressure and their efforts backfired. However, union heads, one of them at least, are apparently preparing to wage a more aggressive campaign next year. U. S. News lists a "threat of political retaliation" made by one of the top men. He sent a letter to every House member voting for Landrum-Griffin, saying they had "much answer for" and stating that the union will "do all our power" to defeat them in 1960.

This, as might be expected, brought an angry reaction in some quarters. Senator Goldwater, for instance, described it as "the damndest display of arrogance I've ever seen in my life." And Representative DeLoach of New York wrote back asking for 10,000 copies of the letter to send to constituents "so they can see how you operate."

This growing acrimony aside, U. S. News points to a significant political development that has now become clear. In its words, "The total number of winners last November who were endorsed by organized labor in some form or another bears little relationship to the present tempers of Congress. What was regarded nine months ago as a big labor victory turns into an entirely different picture when you look at the election results."

DOCTOR, THIS IS ARNOLD . . . OUR SPECIALIST ON INTERNAL DISORDERS OF THE TRANSMISSION

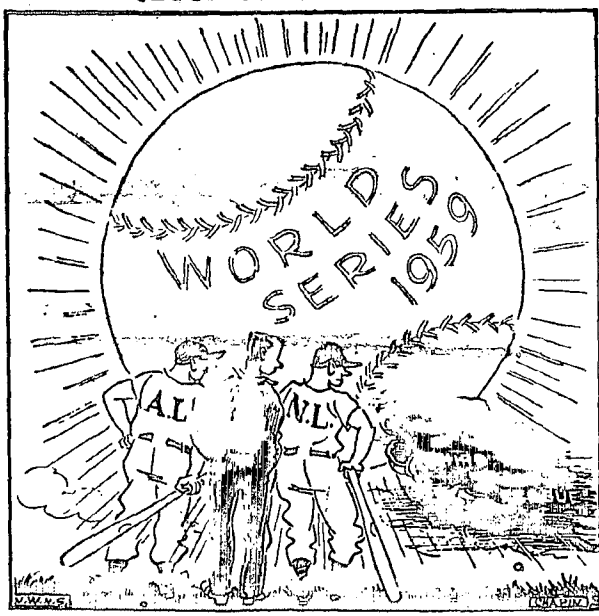

Yes, you'll find here plenty of specialized "know how" on every phase of car servicing. Whatever ails your car, you can be sure that we'll "diagnose" the trouble correctly and do what's needed to "cure" it so it STAYS cured. district by district."

That picture is a simple one. Congressmen from the industrial areas of the North generally vote labor's way. But in rural areas, and especially the South, a labor endorsement does not mean a Congressional vote for labor. Landrum-Griffin provides an example. Fifty-three Southern Congressmen were given labor's endorsement in 1958 — and 40 of them voted for Landrum-Griffin. This situation, incidentally, has caused more of a cleavage in the Democratic Party than any other factor.

At any rate, the lines are being drawn for the political wars of next year. And—unless some big international emergency develops—it's a pretty sure bet that labor and labor legislation will be the hottest political issue.

Monday marked the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Love of Beaver Creek, and to make the occasion a memorable one a celebration was held Sunday. Relatives of the grand old couple arranged a picnic dinner at Cold Springs at Higgins Lake, that proved a very enjoyable affair. Mrs. Love was Ida Auslander and was born in Germany 69 years ago. Mr. Love, who has reached his 76th milestone, was born in Ohio, and the couple were united in marriage September 21, 1886, in Bay City. They came to Crawford County 48 years ago, settling in Beaver Creek township which has since been their home. Mr. and Mrs. Love coming at a time when this country was just being settled, worked hard, but their efforts have been rewarded as they own one of the most comfortable farms in Beaver Creek, and have been very successful farmers. Mr. Love is supervisor of his township and has served in that capacity for several terms, besides holding township offices at times. Dear Bob:
I attended a meeting of our Life Underwriters Association the other evening and listened to our National President speak. He said that from Indiana, so much of what he said made sense!
One set of figures he quoted from an extensive study made by Northwestern University was of real interest to me and I thought they would also confirm many of your ideas on the cost of the "welfare state".
These figures represent what happens to a dollar bill when given to various agencies for the purpose of redistribution for the public good: $1.00 to private charity (March of Dimes, Cancer Society, etc.) 93 cents back to the people; $1.00 to local government for similar purpose, 73 cents back to the people; $1.00 to state government for services along same lines, 50 cents back — it takes $2.00 to get out $1.00 from our States; $1.00 to Federal government, 30 cents back — it takes $3.00 to get out $1.00 from the Federal government.
In other words, every time the schools, the road commission or the local people receive a dollar, the level of government should assist on a project (aid to education, highways, etc.) they not only relinquish control of the work, but increase the tax on the people.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spear and Grandma Maud, Jordan of Saginaw are on a nice trip to New York and through parts of Canada on their way back to Lovells. Grandma Jordan has spent the summer here taking care of her two great grandchildren, Debbie and Kenneth Bahman. We will miss her if she decides to spend the winter back home.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dupine and sons of Taylor, Mich., visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moody over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rhoads of Comins visited at the Earl Moody's on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Drayton Holcomb and Mrs. Cleary of Highland Park returned home after spending some time at their home here.

Mrs. Cleary is Mrs. Holcomb's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Young and son were up over the weekend from Lansing.

The Mack family of Detroit were up to their cabin as were quite a few Twin Bridge Road residents.
